STANDARD.

A very simple but pretty wedding took place last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anna Smith, when her daughter, Miss Clara Magoon, was united in marriage to Elmer Moulton Shepard in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends. The bride, becomingly gowned in white cashmere and satin, carrying bride's roses, came down the stairs attended by her sister, Miss Esther Magoon, who wore brown crepe de chine and carried pink roses. Austin Magoon, a brother of the bride, acted as best man. The room was tastefully decorated with evergreens and the ceremony was performed beneath an arch of evergreen and white chrysanthemums, the Rev. H. E. Howard officiating. The double ring service was used. A reception was held following the ceremony and the happy couple left amid showers of confetti for unknown regions. They are to live at Mr. Shepard's farm in this town. That Mr. and Mrs. Shepard have many friends to wish them a long life of joy, was shown by the many beautiful wedding gifts, including linen, china and silver, which were presented to them. These from out of town who attended the wedding were Mrs. Moses Mill and son, Walter, of North Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. Hiley Shepard of Wheelock; Mr. and Mrs. Carro French and family of East Hardwick; Austin Magoon of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson and family of Cabot; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bates of Springfield, Mass.; Miss Rhode Smith and Miss Esther Magoon of Burlington.

SEVENTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Older Boys of Vermont at Burlington January 12-14

The Seventh Annual Conference of Older Boys of Vermont will be held at Burlington, January 12-14 next. It will begin with the supper session on Friday evening. Saturday will be filled with addresses, group conferences, recreational period, and an attractive evening program. On Sunday morning the conference speakers will give addresses at the churches. In the afternoon there will be a decision meeting for older boys, and the closing session will be a united meeting with the churches in the evening.

The people of Burlington kindly offer free entertainment in their homes to the delegates, who must be boys between the years of 15 and 20. Delegates are invited from all churches, Sunday schools, Y. M. C. A., clubs and preparatory schools, Boy Scouts, clubs and similar organizations; but the delegates should be boys who propose to have their lives count for the best things in life and who would be interested in a conference of this kind, the main purpose of which is inspiration and instruction in Christian life and service by boys.

The conferences of the past six years have been attended by over 2,000 of the strong, manly, older boys of the state, and many of them are now doing splendid work in their homes, churches, schools, and other places because of the help the conferences have given them.

The speakers include some of the best men in America who are working with boys. Among them are: Albert E. Roberts, dean of the county department of the International Committee Young Men's
